Dear Colleague:

The 2014 Midwinter Conference of Immunologists at Asilomar will convene on the above dates at the historic Asilomar Conference Grounds in Pacific Grove (near Monterey) California.

This meeting continues to be an exciting contribution to the latest developments in the field of Immunology and we encourage Scientists and Training Grant Directors to inform their postdoctoral fellows and graduate students about the benefits to be derived from this outstanding conference. A diligent governing Council has successfully kept the cost of this three-day event to a minimum solely to promote and support the attendance of all scientists including students.

Asilomar is situated in the beautiful coastal environment of Monterey. The unusual meeting format leaves part of the afternoons free of obligations. The relaxed ambiance affords the unique opportunity for interaction between the prominent guest speakers and conference attendees and facilitates the possibility to identify potential collaborators and mentors.

Register by Monday, November 18, 2013, to avoid a late fee. Registration continues through the meeting dates for unplanned last minute attendance. The Conference is limited to 650 attendees. Updated information and forms may be downloaded from our website, www.midwconfimmunol.org.

This announcement is being directed to those who are well-known for their contribution in the field of Immunology both here and abroad. Please share it among your colleagues, postdoctoral fellows and students by e-mail and by posting on your departmental bulletin board and interdepartmental website.

Don’t miss this extraordinary Immunology conference!!

Sincerely yours,

Christel Uittenbogaart, M.D.
Executive Director
